The Utah Symphony, rated by the New York Times as one of America's top 15 orchestras, will play a concert in the University of Montana Theater Wednesday, Oct. 16, at 8:15 p.m.

The Missoula performance is sponsored by the UM School of Fine Arts and the Associated Students' Program Council. The Missoula Stake of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints is cooperating in ticket sales.

The program for the Missoula evening concert and the date that advance ticket sales start will be announced this week.

The 85-man orchestra, under the direction of Maurice Abravanel, will tour the Intermountain West this season, performing in Idaho, Nevada, Colorado, New Mexico and Texas as well as Montana.

Maestro Abravanel has said the Utah Symphony belongs to the grass-roots populace. It is his policy to play concerts in schools wherever possible, and the orchestra's visit to Missoula will include daytime concerts for grade and high-school pupils.
